Marriage & Family Counseling

Since the foundation of society is built on the family, TLC is committed to the preservation of this institution. Our operational philosophy is to work with a couple or their family as a unit, through individual and couple sessions.

Attention Deficit/Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD)

ADHD, among other child/adolescent issues, is one of our specialty areas. Adult ADHD may be the root cause of many marriage, job or relational problems. TLC offers extensive ADHD evaluations for both the adult and child, as well as, provide personalized treatment plans, groups, and follow-up counseling. By special arrangements an assesment for medication can be provided by a caring psychiatrist.

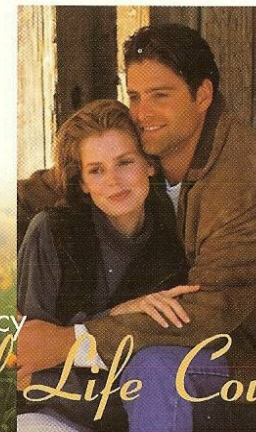

Corporate & Church Consulting/Individual Coaching

In today's business world, the psychological component must not be ignored. Strategies and skills in the areas of stress management, communication, problem solving, and goal settings, as well as other issues, can be addressed.

Dynamic Speakers for Conferences

Many professional organizations such as business alliances, civic organizations, churches, and schools, are looking for dynamic speakers. TLC professionals are available for these opportunities. Information on this may be obtained by calling TLC for details. Conference Topics: Marriage, Stress Management, Grief Recovery, Parenting,

Surviving your Teenagers, Attention Deficit/Hyperactivity Disorder, and many other topics.
